

NEW YORK STILL IN THROES OF PANIC

Excitement Over Progress of Great Wave of Crime Against Women and Girls Unabated.

NEW CASES OF ASSAULT ARE REPORTED

New York, August 5.—The fact that yesterday mob vengeance held sway and lynching was narrowly averted, has added to the seriousness of the situation in this city caused by the recent remarkable series of crimes in which women and young girls are the victims.

The mob attacks reveal a state of public exasperation approaching frenzy, which, it is feared may easily lead to serious disorder. Prompt action by the police alone saved two men accused on Sunday, from summary justice, especially in the case of George Kestner, a Russian book binder, around whose neck a mob had tied a rope when the police reached the scene in force. It is noteworthy that the other man attacked, Louis Concomela, was innocent of any attempt at crime, and indicates how readily a mistake can be made in time of public excitement.

The police are making every effort to give protection and one thousand plain clothes men have been scattered about the city, particularly in the congested quarters, the scene of most of the assaults.

Negro Urges Southern Methods.

The first organized body to take up the question is the Central Federated union, which has appointed a committee to call on the mayor with a demand that he take action that will stop the attacks on children. It was stated that if the city authorities do not quickly stop the crimes, Governor Hughes will be appealed to.

A negro delegate spoke at the meeting at which the committee was appointed, in praise of the "quick justice" of the south. This is significant of the feeling that exists in some quarters.

Late last night the police received news of another attack. It occurred in the suburb of Richmond Hill. Jennie Smith, 22 years old, was attacked by two men while on her way home. Her screams brought assistance and one of the assailants was captured.

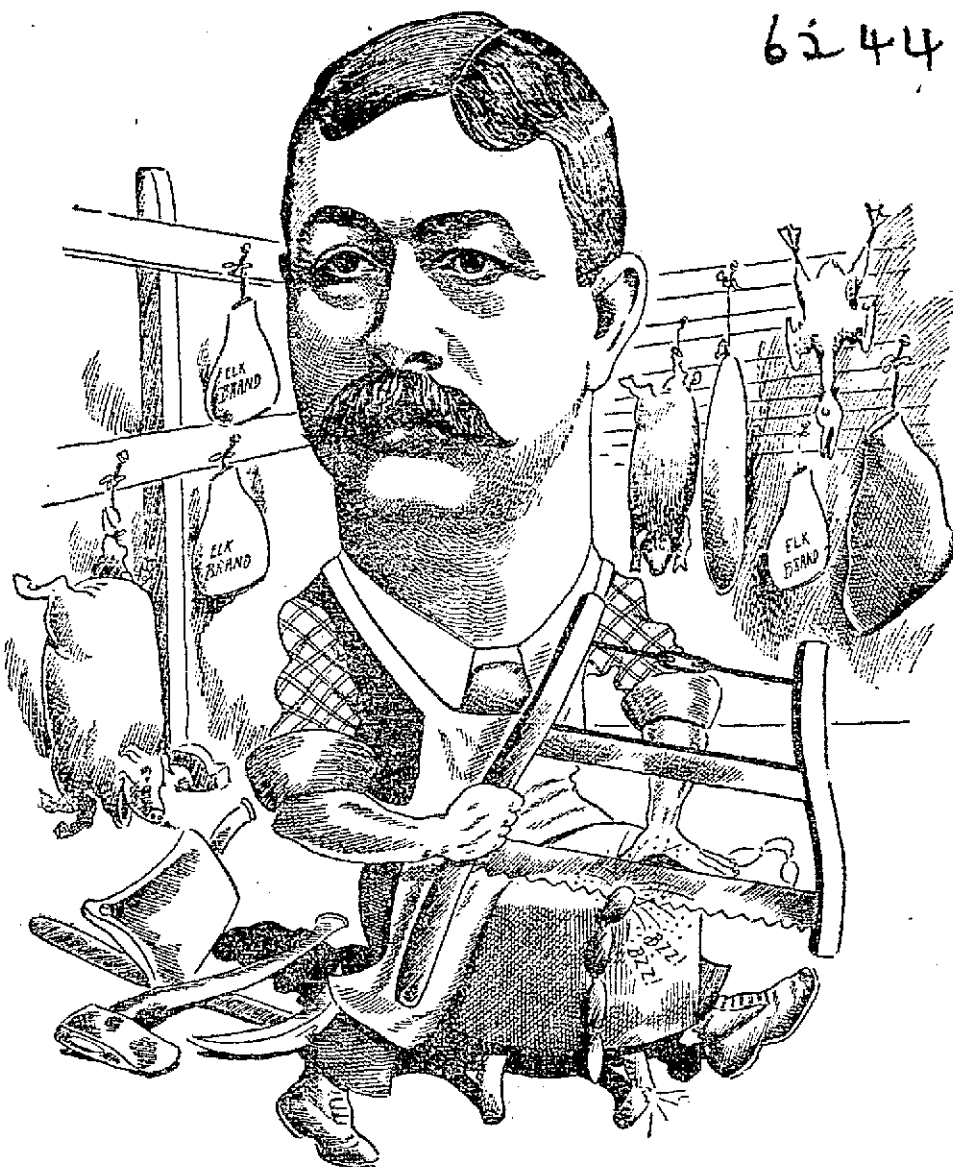

Dies as Result of Riot.

One man died today as the result of race riots which started yesterday over a ten-cent bet on a ball game. The dead man is John McGee, a negro, who was badly beaten in the fight with the whites. More than a score of persons are recovering today from the injuries received in the riot.

No further disorders as the result of outbreaks of mob vengeance on the assaults of women and children were reported early today. Many parents are keeping their children indoors while in the east side, where Katie Totschler was maltreated and murdered, the thousands of children who play in the streets are under the

ESCORT SHOT; GIRL IS MURDERED

Pretty Jewish Maiden Victim of a Terrible Crime at Dayton; Assaulted and Slain.

CRIME HAS SOME MYSTIFYING PHASES

Dayton, Ohio, Aug. 5.—Anna Markowitz, 24 years of age, a pretty Jewish girl, lies dead at the county morgue, her throat bearing the mute evidence of the stranger's death clutch. Her body, bruised and cut, bears evidences of brutal mistreatment. At the hospital, with a mortal wound in his abdomen and his head a mass of bruises, lies Abraham Gordon, a young traveling man from Indianapolis.

Held on suspicion by the authorities at Dayton are James, Jacob and Bertha Markowitz, brothers and sister of the dead girl.

This was the situation today in a very complex murder case and one in which brutality and cruelty rivals the fate of pretty Donna Gilman, whose pitiful end was reached but a very short distance from where this latest crime occurred.

Anna Markowitz, like Donna Gilman, was mistreated. But in this latest case there is not that complete absence of clues which has made the Gilman case one of deepest mysteries of this section.

Sunday, Abraham Gordon, sometimes known as Cohan, went out walking along a lonely road near the National Soldiers' home. He was accompanied by Anna Markowitz and her younger sister, Bertha. They had walked to a lonely spot when the crime was committed. Two stories, widely different in their intimations, are told. What took place has up to this time not been clearly developed. The story of Bertha when she rushed breathless and terror-stricken to the soldiers' home, was that while her sister, Young Gordon and herself were strolling along a secluded path, a highwayman slipped unheeded behind Gordon and struck him with a blackjack.

Gordon, she said, turned about and as he did so the highwayman shot him in the stomach.

As Gordon fell, she says, the man made a dash for either herself or her sister. She ran screaming from the scene in terror, leaving her oldest sister Anna to her fate. Bertha said she did not stop until she got to the soldiers' home, where she gave the alarm.

The sheriff was notified and a posse formed. When they reached the spot of the crime they found Gordon almost dead. A trail showed where Anna had been dragged. They followed the beaten down path and came upon the body of the girl lying in the weeds. The clothing had been nearly torn from the body. There were evidences of a fearful struggle and an assault. The girl was dead from strangulation.

The Markowitz brothers and Bertha later called at police headquarters to see what had been learned about the crime. Questioned the brothers are said to have admitted that their mother objected to further attentions being paid by Gordon to Anna. The brothers would not deny that they had followed their sisters, Anna and Bertha, into the woods when they went with Gordon.

KENNEDY WITHDRAWS APPLICATION FOR LICENSE

League Forces Him to Retire Under Strong Remonstrance.

The good citizenship movement that has been launched against the saloon law violations resulted this morning in forcing John J. Kennedy, Jr., to withdraw his application for a license from the files in the county auditor's office, and for thirty days at least one of the most troublesome saloons in Fort Wayne will be closed.

The place for several years has been regarded by the police department as one of the toughest in Fort Wayne, and aside from devoting its attention to Sunday law violations the league will give saloons of this character battles before the board of commissioners when application is made for renewals of licenses.

The license under which Kennedy is now operating expires tomorrow and he can not go before the board of commissioners again for thirty days, and it is likely that he will resort then to the scheme practiced by other saloon men who conduct questionable resorts by having a bartender or some of his friends make the application.

Immorality is charged against Kennedy and the remonstrance is signed by Melville A. Mason, George J. Cooper and O. E. Mohler. Since May 13, 1906, it is charged that Kennedy has been convicted five times of infractions of the law. He published his notice of application in the Staats-Zeitung, which is published in German and hoped by that means that the league would overlook him and he would get through without a battle.

HON. A. GREEN SMITH IS DEAD AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Former Attorney General of State—Participated in Noted Affairs.

Indianapolis, Aug. 5.—Alonzo Green Smith, former lieutenant governor and attorney general of Indiana and one of the best known democrats in the state, died today of heart trouble.

He was born September 6, 1848, on a farm in Meigs county, Ohio, and came to Indiana when nineteen years old, settling at North Vernon, Jennings county, where in 1869, he was admitted to the bar. His education was obtained in the common schools of Ohio, supplemented with a partial course at Franklin college, Ohio. He entered into the practice of law and also into politics, soon coming to be recognized as a leader of the democracy of his county. In 1884 he was elected to the Indiana state senate from the counties of Jackson and Jennings and served in the sessions of 1885 and 1887, acting as president of the latter session. At the session of 1889 he was elected secretary of the senate. In 1890 he was elected attorney general of Indiana and served from November 22 of that year to November 21, 1892, and in 1892 was re-elected for another term of two years.

When first elected to the office of attorney general he removed to this city, which, since that time, has continuously been his home.

It was as president of the senate of 1887 that Green Smith sprang into state prominence. General Manson had resigned the office of lieutenant governor to accept the place as minister of Mexico. The republicans in 1886 held that there had been a vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor which should be filled by election, and the late Col. R. S. Robertson, of Fort Wayne, was placed on their ticket and elected. When the senate organized Senator Smith was elected president of that body. He refused to recognize Colonel Robertson's title to the lieutenant-governorship by virtue of which he would be also presiding officer of the senate. A strenuous contest followed. Smith, backed by the democratic majority, resisted Robertson's claim and riotous scenes followed. Colonel Robertson declined to go to the length of attempting to take the seat by force, though urged to do so, preferring to be on the opposite edge, but it is not bad-

MRS. LEHR YIELDS TO EFFECTS OF POISON

Woman Who Swallowed Carbolic Acid Saturday is Dead.

Mrs. Hattie Lehr died at 6:50 o'clock this morning at her home, 450 East Lewis street, from the effects of a dose of carbolic acid which she swallowed Saturday morning in an attempt to end her life after having wandered into the field opposite the state school for feeble-minded youth.

Mrs. Lehr's age was 57 years, 6 months and 13 days, and she was the wife of Charles Lehr, a railroad engineer. As has been previously stated, domestic difficulty appears to have been the cause which impelled Mrs. Lehr to seek death in suicide. Husband and wife had not been living together for some weeks, but he was at her bedside when death intervened. Only the fact that the poison swallowed by the woman was but a 50 percent solution of carbolic acid averted fatal consequences much earlier.

The suffering woman was removed from Hope hospital to her home early Sunday morning in compliance with her wishes, and while she was apparently considerably improved, physicians at no time believed that there was strong prospect for her recovery. At the hospital Mrs. Lehr expressed regret that she had not died at once, declaring that she had nothing to live for. The husband and a daughter are the only immediate relatives surviving.

Funeral services will be held from the residence Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

WOMAN STRANGLES HER TWO LITTLE ONES TO DEATH

Mrs. Nenadel, of Baltimore, Twice in Asylum Has Murderous Insane Fit.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 5.—During a recurrence of insanity, which has caused her to be thrice confined in an insane asylum, Mrs. Christine Nenadel, aged 26, the wife of Joseph Nenadel, today strangled her two small children.

Suspicion was aroused by sounds coming from the Nenadel home. Neighbors tried to enter, but found all the doors locked. A policeman finally broke open the door, but was too late to save the lives of the children. The mother is under arrest.

FINAL HEARING DATE.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK PENNSYLVANIA LIMITED

Deviltry is Renewed in the Vicinity of Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 5.—It was learned today that an attempt was made yesterday to wreck the New York-Chicago limited express on the Pennsylvania railroad at a point just outside of Allegheny.

Splice bars had been nailed to a tie and rested on each of the rails, but the enormous weight of the mogul engine drawing the train prevented derailment, and the only effect was to badly jolt the passengers. It is the opinion of the railroad officials that the attempt was made by either former employees or by those familiar with the working of the road.

STRENUOUS LIFE GIVES MAN SHORT CUT TO ETERNITY

Figures Gathered in Chicago Show Women Live Twice as Long.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—The strenuous life is killing the men of Chicago at a tremendous rate, while the women of the city are increasing their longevity by the simple life.

In the official health bulletin yesterday Health Commissioner Evans declares that a few centuries will see Chicago and Adams Eden.

Dr. Evans draws his conclusions from the death rate in Chicago for twenty years, and particularly in the last seven months, when five members of the stronger sex died for every two of the fairer.

Dr. Evans makes the startling statement that during the last seven months of 1907 in Chicago about 12,000 men succumbed as compared to 8,000 women.

He says that in the last year the ratio of difference in the death rate between men and women has been thirty as against less than 10 per cent twenty years ago.

The cause for this is attributed by the physician to the strenuous life. Contributory causes are the quick lunch, constant exposure and carelessness.

"The men," he says, "are living at a rate that is 30 per cent faster than that of the women. They work harder. They take less care of themselves than of their wives and daughters. They court danger. They dissipate more. They exhibit a carelessness begotten of familiarity with danger."

The remedy, according to an eminent physician, lies in the return to the simple life of our fathers.

TO PROVIDE ARMORY FOR CONCORDIA COLLEGE

Matter Will Be Taken Up at a Meeting Held This Evening.

Plans to provide a suitable armory building for Concordia college will be taken up at a meeting to be held this evening in St. Paul's school hall, at Barr and Madison streets, and representative members of the various Lutheran churches of the city will be in attendance to discuss the best means of supplying this improvement.

When the United States government, through its war department, sanctioned the creation of a military department at Concordia college last year, it was with the stipulation that the institution would provide suitable armory facilities. Capt. I. W. Leonard, the military director at the college, has the school of drill and instruction well in operation and the armory project will now be taken up in earnest.

Participation in the meeting this evening is entirely voluntary, and out of the discussion it is expected that plans will be devised whereby the expenses of the new structure can be met easily without hardship to any one.

GETTING READY FOR SUIT AGAINST THE ALTON

Preparations Under Way for Inquiry Into Re-bate Charges.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Preparation for the investigation by the federal grand jury of the charges against the Chicago & Alton in connection with the granting of rebates to the Standard Oil company of Indiana, were commenced today. Subpoenas will be issued tomorrow for the witnesses, the first of whom will testify August 14.

ROAD WINS IN SUIT.

Cincinnati, Aug. 5.—The first action on any of the forty or more suits filed against various railroads by the federal government for failure to feed and water live stock in transit, came today when United States Judge Thompson sustained the demurrer of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railway in the case of a shipment by W. W. White from Xenia Ohio to Lewisburg, Ohio.

The petition failed to show violation of the statute by that railroad. Other cases are pending against the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, the Big Four, the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, the Chesapeake & Ohio, and the Cincinnati Northern railroads.

STATE SAENGERBUND MEETS IN 1908 IN FORT WAYNE

This City Chosen at Terre Haute Meeting—Officers are Elected.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 5.—Fort Wayne was fixed upon today by the Indiana Saengerbund as the place for its next meeting, there being a lively contest with Evansville for the honor. Following the usual custom the officers of the local society were named as the state officers for the ensuing year as follows:

Fred Kipple, of Terre Haute; Fred J. Biel, of Terre Haute; Karl Bartenbach, financial and corresponding secretary, and Thomas Duenhofer, treasurer.

The delegates are being entertained by the local numbers today, trolley rides being taken over the lines of the local traction company, and visits made to various points of interest, including the two breweries. One of the most successful meetings in the history of the association will close tonight with a grand ball at Lakeview park, for which great preparations have been made.

NEW COMPANY WILL BE FORMED TO RUN FACTORY

Henry Pfeiffer Bids in Plant of Old Peerless Company.

Representing other gentlemen who with himself will organize a new company to take hold of the business with ample capital and renewed energy, Henry Pfeiffer today purchased at trustee's sale the plant of the Peerless Manufacturing company on Wall street for $7,900.

Manufactured stock on hand brought $825, and office fixtures and furniture about $150 more, distributed among several purchasers. The Peerless company manufactured several types of washing machines, but got into financial difficulties some time ago and were thrown into bankruptcy. The Citizens' Trust company as trustee, conducted the sale today subject to approval by the referee.

Mr. Pfeiffer says the concern will be placed on a solid footing and will manufacture a number of other novelties in addition to the washing machine.

CHICAGO IS COMING TO FRONT WITH CRIME WAVE

Five Fatal Assaults Have Been Reported There Over Night.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—Five mysterious assaults in which four men were killed and another fatally wounded, aroused the entire police force to energetic action early today. The victims in the affairs were:

Fusario Rocco, found on the doorstep of his home, 129 Austin avenue, with two stiletto wounds in his body. He had been instantly killed by the knife thrusts, both of which went entirely through his lungs.

Edward Smith, a policeman, living at 687 Warren avenue, was shot and killed by an unknown man while walking a short distance from his house.

The police late in the day arrested Mrs. Laura Nightingale, of 525 Park avenue. She said that Smith was a frequent caller at her house and that another man had repeatedly made threats against him for doing so. She gave the officers the name of this man and it is believed that he will be arrested within a short time.

John L. Barbour, 250 Thirty-second street, was found dead on the Illinois Central tracks, fifty feet north of the Thirty-first street suburban station. The head had been cut off by a passing train and was found 100 feet down the track. It is believed that Barbour committed suicide, but there are circumstances that make this doubtful.

John Naughton, 3736 Lower avenue, died in the hospital after being assaulted by three strangers at Thirty-seventh street and Lake avenue.

William Donovan is dying in the County hospital from a bullet wound in the abdomen. Donovan was found in a basement at 448 Hermitage avenue and said he had been robbed by three men, one of whom shot him when he attempted to resist.

In none of the cases have the police been able to thus far obtain the slightest clue to the murderers.

RING IMBEDDED IN A BUGGY TIRE WAITS AN OWNER

Somebody's Wedding Ring Found in Most Peculiar Manner.

Somebody's wedding ring, a little worse for having been imbedded for some time in a rubber buggy tire, awaits an owner at the office of the Great Fort Wayne fair in the court house. Inside the ring is the inscription, "F. to B., May 2, '02," and it is of fourteen karat gold.

Dr. W. F. Myers had a new tire put on one of his buggies a day or two ago and Saturday as he alighted from the vehicle he noticed that something had become imbedded in the rubber and he dug it out. From the shape of the ring and the inscription he took it to be a wedding ring and he wants to return it to the owner.

The edge of the ring that came in contact with the pavement is slightly worn and there are a number of cuts on the opposite edge, but it is not badly damaged.

SOUTHERN MICHIGAN IS BUMPED RIGHT BY SHAMROCKS

Champions Barely Escape a Shut Out at Hands of the Locals.

Southern Michigan got a severe jolt at the local campus yesterday when the Shamrocks pitched off half a dozen runs for their share of the matinee performance while the home boys shut out the visitors from a meekly yielding defense of ciphers.

The Michigan hit output was a third larger than that of the home boys but four of the swats that fell to the Shamrocks came paired with a couple of errors and a few batted balls in the second and third innings.

This little function also resulted in the transfer of Steinfeld from the mound to the outfield and the substitution of Comstock who pitched most excellent ball but the damage was all done before he got into action.

Sixteen hundred people paid to see the game which does not include the ladies who do not separate themselves from any other class at the gate and are only required to make a dime deposit for seats in the grand stand.

Another factor in increasing the attendance was the mildness of the day which bound over the fences to say nothing of the stampedede that follows Mart Cleary's generous giving of seats to the youngsters after three or four innings had been rolled off.

The enemy made a bid for a tally in the second and fourth innings. It took him but a moment to get a hit when he struck out him off a couple of feet from a stolen base. Steinfeld and Kinninger lined out down third base line, moved up when Steinfeld stepped a shot with his elbow and a few batted balls in the second and third innings.

Another clean hit off his delivery in six innings. The Toledo Shamrocks will be the next offering at League Park.

CORNER GUN CLUB WINS.
Magnolias Are Beaten in a Fast and Interesting Contest.

In a fast game at the farm yesterday the Corner Gun and Gun club beat the Magnolias. Jimmy Gardner played short for the Gun club and proved himself some shortstop. The hit column also shows he was there with the lumber. The score:

MAN RESCUED FROM PERIL.

Pulled From Under Wheels of a Moving Train.

Rescuing an unknown man from under the wheels of a moving train by the endangerment of their own lives is the part played by Lieutenant M. J. Shea and Sergeant Emmet Markey, of the Hibernian Rifles, at Rome City yesterday afternoon. The two men were standing a few feet from the train after seeing several friends off when the man attempted to board it. He lost his hold on the bar and his body was let down under the wheels onto the rails. Lieutenant Shea and Sergeant Markey at once saw the peril of the man and pulled him out into safe territory, much to the gratefulness of his friends.

After filling a stove with what she thought was coal oil and which was really gasoline she applied a match to it and it flared up, inflicting the injuries mentioned above.

JUDGE LANDIS' DECISION.

In round numbers the aggregate of fines assessed against the Standard Oil company is thirty million dollars. It looks big and it is big, but it is equal to only about two-thirds of the Standard Oil company's average annual profits upon its capital stock of $100,000,000. So, with due allowance for the convicted company's ability to pay, the mulct, vast as it is, can scarcely be termed excessive.

The public will approve the severe penalty laid upon the offending corporation by Judge Kenesaw M. Landis. For many years Standard oil in the popular mind, has typified predatory commercialism and has stood as the symbol of monopoly. All its misdeeds are not known, but enough of them are known to thoroughly settle in the public mind the conviction that it has been a ruthless, lawless business organization that stopped at no means to gain and hold a monopoly of the petroleum business of the country. For years it escaped an accounting with the law. It dictated legislation, overawed courts and evaded the clutches of the great federal government itself. It has been brought to book. The largest monetary penalty ever assessed against an individual or a corporation has been adjudged the penalty the monopoly must pay for some fourteen hundred specific violations of a law in its relations with two railroads. The penalty is as large as the war indemnity in many cases exacted from conquered nations. Yet it is none too large if the government is fully in earnest in its announced purpose to break up the criminal operations of monopoly. A fine of one-fifth the amount would seem vast, but it would not scathe the Standard Oil company.

Nor will the prodigious sum Judge Landis has decreed it must pay appreciably impair its finances. It is the conviction that hurts; the dictum that Standard oil methods in business must cease, which jars the great corporation. It sets a precedent that other courts will follow.

The moral effect of Judge Landis' courageous performance of his duty will be two-fold and far-reaching. It will act as a powerful deterrent upon other corporations pursuing unlawful methods for it fixes an adequate degree of punishment as the standard of justice in such cases. More far-reaching, however, will be its influence in allaying popular discontent with federal courts and in answering the radical agitation of the much-exploited and not unfounded claim that there is one standard of justice for the poor and another for the rich. If the case has been proved flagrant and indefensible to Judge Landis he did well in imposing the extreme penalty the law permitted and it is easy to understand his regret that he could not go farther and send to prison men he characterized as criminals.

The frenzied state of the public mind in New York resulting from the unprecedented series of crimes against women and little girls is well illustrated in the almost successful attempts of mobs Sunday to wreak summary vengeance upon two men believed guilty of assault. In each case the mob in its blind fury made a mistake and innocent men were roughly handled. In one instance a rope was placed about the neck of an innocent suspect and only the splendid conduct of a policeman who fought the mob until reserves came upon the scene saved Gotham from the disgrace of a lynching in the street. Meanwhile the police appear to be less than ever able to cope with the dreadful situation and there is talk of appeal to the governor. If this remarkable series of crimes much longer continues the deeds of a frenzied populace in its mad efforts to correct the evils that are shocking humanity will be fruitful of as many horrors as the criminals who are baffling detection.

Many indications make it clear that fear and not a spirit of obedience to the laws is the motive behind such saloon-closing as there has been on Sundays. In other words, as soon as the cause of fear is removed the saloons will return to the unrestricted practice of keeping wide open. From this the Good Citizenship league will doubtless take counsel. The campaign must go forward perseveringly, ceaselessly, determinedly. The league has everything to gain. The saloons have everything to lose.

Nothing in a name, of course, and the scorcher by any other would doubtless have been as sweetly bruised, but it is worth noting that a youth in New York who drove his machine like an express train and was picked from the wreckage and taken to a hospital more or less mussy as to condition of arms and legs, trunk and features, was named Swift. More important, however, is the contrite resolution the youth has taken upon himself to never again ride in an automobile.

From what so far appears the war on the oil octopuses has but just begun. Government report just published indicates possession of enough raw material to keep the courts busy for a good while. Too bad Landis isn't several judges; or better still, that several judges are not Landises.

Fish trust is the latest of the combles to be haled to court. Not a time for levity or remarks of light-some kind, but the possibilities are elegant and the temptation great.

Well, why not? Many a man just as good has got the limit when he couldn't begin to pay it.

The sightless tiger should also be made a clawless tiger.

MR. EDGERTON EXPLAINS PURPOSE.

To the Editor of the Sentinel: Mention, as made by the city papers on Saturday last, connecting me with a proposed movement for a monument at the neglected, unmarked grave of Governor Bigger, in McCulloch park, it seems to me, is liable to carry an erroneous impression, to the effect that I am soliciting a fund from the citizens of Fort Wayne for the purpose stated. Such has not been my purpose. In a published communication of recent date I brought to public attention the disgraceful treatment on the part of Fort Wayne of the grave of a most distinguished citizen, the only governor of Indiana Fort Wayne can claim.

My appeal was to this city, as a city, through its constituted representatives, to the city government, to do something creditable in the matter to individuals. This failing, it has been my purpose to memorialize the next legislature on the subject, presenting all the facts. I fear the facts, as they would have to be stated, would make the city of Fort Wayne look a good deal like a thirty cent town at about that time.

C. W. Edgerton.
Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 4, 1907.

Mrs. J. W. Lane, who has been very sick at the Lutheran hospital for the past four weeks, is greatly improved and it is expected that she will be removed to her home this week.

BRAMES DIVIDES FAMILY AND SEPARATES FROM HIS FAMILY

Humane Officer Lands Him in City Court—The Monday Docket.

When Mrs. James C. Brames decided that she couldn't stand any longer for the drinking bouts that she says prevented her husband from supporting her and their four children properly, he said he didn't care and they formulated an agreement to separate under the terms of which the wife was to take the two girls of the household, while the boys went to the father.

This agreement did not relieve him of the responsibility of maintaining his family and this morning he was in the city court on a charge of failure to provide and the case was continued until tomorrow. He sold all of the household goods, put the older boy on his father's farm, placed the younger with his sister and, although he admitted he makes from $12 to $15 a week, he gave the girls and the wife no thought, although one of his little ones is only four years old.

The wife provided a home for one and the other was to have been adopted by her. Humane Officer Schlaudt said they are likely to become a burden on the county and he took steps to have it prevented. Brames is a big husky fellow and perfectly able to support his children and it is probable that he will be required to do so. They have been married eleven years and Brames was in court once for appropriating money belonging to the Mondamin Meadow Dairy Co.

The Other Cases.

John K. Hatfield went fishing in the Brookside lake Saturday night and was arrested by Dr. G. B. Leslie. He entered a plea of guilty to trespass and his case was continued indefinitely. He is a hard working man and had never been in any trouble before. John H. Bass, owner of Brookside, has been much annoyed by poachers who angle in the lake and several attempts to catch the trespassers had failed. Saturday night, however, Dr. Leslie and one of the attendants at the farm contrived to get close upon two men who were fishing. One of them got away, but Hatfield was captured and brought down town.

Frank Dender promised to keep sober and the case of drunkenness against him was continued. Charles Higgins was just as lucky, while James Yegak was given an hour to leave town.

George Bernard drove $1 and costs for intoxication. Elmer Jones was fined $5 and costs for vagrancy and Charles Dickson and William Russell were let go.

10,000 PEOPLE AT COLLEGE.

Great Crowd Celebrates Lutheran Hospital Day at Concordia.

The celebration of "Hospital day" by the Lutheran congregations of this and surrounding cities yesterday at the Concordia college grove was a very notable feature and attracted over 10,000 people. In that vast assemblage were represented congregations of towns for many miles around. Exercises appropriate to the occasion were held during the day and a collection for the hospital was taken up. This collection added a very handsome sum. The music for the occasion was furnished by the choir of the local congregations and the Silver Star band, of Adams township, rendered many beautiful pieces.

The religious program was conducted by both city and out of town pastors. The services proper were conducted by Rev. Paul Stoepelwerth, of the Trinity German Lutheran church, and the German sermon was delivered by Rev. Eickstaedt, of Laporte, and the English by Rev. William Moll, of Emanuel church. Rev. A. Doerfler, of St. Peter's church, Gogebin, delivered the benediction.

FRANCE TO THE FRONT WITH A RAILWAY HORROR

Train Goes Into River Near Angers and Two Score Are Drowned.

Angers, France, Aug. 5.—Forty passengers and the engine were drowned yesterday afternoon in one of the worst railroad disasters ever known in France.

The wreck occurred at Les Ponts de Ce, three miles southeast of Angers, where the railroad crosses the River Loire over a stone bridge. A local train crowded with home-going holiday makers left the track just at the entrance to the bridge.

The heavy locomotive smashed through the stone wall guarding the approach and plunged into the Loire. Immediately behind the engine were the baggage and third class passenger cars. These followed it into the river.

The Loire, which is deep at this point, engulfed completely the locomotive and the three cars. In the passenger cars were at least forty passengers, men, women and children, coupled up in the boxlike compartments that gave no chance of escape.

Not one of the passengers in the cars came to the surface.

Frightful Death in Trap.

The passenger car sank with all windows and doors closed, the pressure of the water blew a portion of the roof off. Even some of the passengers died literally like fish.

One who went into the river on his own, escaped. He jumped out of the car and swam to the shore. The engineer, who remained in his cab, perished, the locomotive plunging end on into the mud of the river bottom.

Only the fortunate snapping of the coupling between the third class car and the coach following it prevented the entire train from going into the river. There were more than 150 passengers on the train, and had not the coupling broken in time few of them would have escaped.

Horror in Car Sickens Divers.

Following the wreck desperate and heroic efforts were made unavailingly to rescue some of the passengers trapped in the engulfed car. Men dived repeatedly, only to come up sick with horror at the glimpse they got into the car. It was evidently that for the car burst and filled with water the passengers had made the most desperate efforts to escape. Some were seen who had struggled half way through the broken windows and there died.

Up to a late hour few of the bodies had been recovered, and these showed signs of the frightful struggle for life that had taken place under the surface of the placid Loire.

MYSTERIOUS STRANGER'S TIP TO POLICE IS BAD ONE

Dallas F. Green Was Informed Man and Woman Were at Logansport.

A man who refused to give his name called at the home of Dallas F. Green last night and informed him that the man and woman suspected of robbing his jewelry store could be found at Logansport and he communicated the fact to the local police.

A message was sent to the Logansport authorities and the house in which the man and woman were said to be lodged was thoroughly searched, but the couple was not there and had not been there, according to the statement of the landlady. The man who gave the information said he did not go directly to the police because he was wanted at Logansport for participation in a fight and was afraid of arrest.

The man and woman are thought to have stolen about $150 worth of jewelry from Mr. Green one day last week. They entered the store and the man selected some jewelry and paid $2 on it, asking that it be kept until he went to the bank to get some money. He did not return and an investigation led to the belief that while the man was talking to the clerk the woman got away with the jewelry.

The theft was not discovered until Saturday night. The man under suspicion is the same who applied for a position as lineman and electrician at the Wabash Valley traction company's offices and by telling a story about having just had a cancer removed he secured $10.

MAGNETS HELD BY CORONER.

New York, Aug. 5.—Ralph Peters, president of the Long Island railroad, who, with General Manager McCrea, were held responsible by the coroner's jury for the deaths of Dr. Gallagher and Miss Madigan, who lost their lives in an automobile collision with a Long Island railroad train at St. Albans cross, was served with a warrant of arrest today at Jamaica and held by Coroner Ambler in $10,000 bail to await the action of the grand jury. Bail was furnished. General Manager McCrea was served with a warrant last Saturday and also held in $10,000 bail.

The coroner's jury found both railroad officers criminally negligent for not safeguarding the St. Albans crossing.

Master Walter Barnett, eldest son of Dr. W. W. Barnett, has returned from western Tennessee, where for the past six weeks he has been visiting an aunt and other relatives. He also spent some time at Nashville as the guest of "Jack" Hardy, the former Fort Wayne ballplayer who is now a member of the Nashville team.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrie Ewing and family, who have been in the city visiting for several days, are now at Monroeville. Mr. and Mrs. Ewing lived in this city two or three years ago, when Mr. Ewing was employed in the Mergenthau establishment, on Calhoun street. They now have their home at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

ANOTHER ROD IS IN PICKLE FOR OIL OCTOPUS

Unlawful Methods in Raising Prices Shown in Fresh Report.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 5.—Following close on the track of the $29,540,000 fine imposed by Judge Landis in Chicago on the Standard Oil company for violation of the Elkins law in unlawfully swelling its profits by accepting secret rebates from the Chicago and Alton railroad, significant revelations were made public yesterday in a report submitted to President Roosevelt by Herbert Knox Smith, commissioner of corporations, concerning the operations of the Standard company.

In a previous report the means and methods of the Standard were explained. The present report sets forth the results of those methods and the effect they have had on the consumer of oil and on the profits of the Standard Oil company. It deals with the manipulation of the oil industry by the Standard has affected the pocketbook of the American people.

Used Power to Squeeze Public.

Commissioner Smith says:

"The Standard Oil company is responsible for the course of prices of petroleum and its products during the last twenty-five years. The Standard has consistently used its power to raise the price of oil during the last ten years not only absolutely but also relatively to the cost of crude oil."

"The Standard has claimed that it has reduced the price of oil; that it has been a benefit to the consumer; and that only a great combination like the Standard could have prevailed. Each one of these claims is disproved by this report."

"The increase in annual profits of the Standard from 1896 to 1904 was over $27,000,000. The total dividends paid by the Standard from 1892 to 1906, were $51,922,904, averaging thus 24.15 per cent per year. The dividends, however, were much less than the total earnings. It is substantially certain that the entire net earnings of the Standard from 1892 to 1906 were at least $790,000,000 and possibly much more."

"These enormous profits have been based on an investment worth at the time of its original acquisition not more than $75,000,000."

Unfair Methods Exposed.

In his letter to President Roosevelt, transmitting the report, Commissioner Smith says:

"The following facts are proven: The Standard has not reduced margins during the period in which it has been responsible for the prices of oil. During the last eight years covered by this report (1898 to 1905) it has raised both prices and margins."

"Its domination has not been acquired or maintained by its superior efficiency, but by unfair competition and by methods economically and morally unjustifiable."

"The Standard has superior efficiency in running its own business; it has an equal efficiency in destroying the business of competitors. It keeps for itself the profits of the first, and adds to these the monopoly profits secured by the second."

"Its profits are far above the highest possible standard of a reasonable commercial return, and have been steadily increasing."

"Finally, the history of this great industry is a history of the persistent use of the worst industrial methods, the exacting of exorbitant prices from the consumer and the securing of extensive profits for the small group of men who, over a long series of years, have thus dominated the business."

In a few days another section of the report will be made public, setting forth the importance of price discrimination in restraining the business of competitors and augmenting the profits of the Standard.

"Margins" Used to Fill Coffers.

The report, in part, is as follows:

"The investigation of prices of petroleum in the United States shows two conspicuous facts:

"1. There has been a marked increase in the margin between the price of crude oil and the prices of its leading finished products in the United States during the last ten years. This increase in margin is only in small part attributable to increase in costs of conducting the business. Although since the time when the Standard Oil company first secured a large proportion of the business, about 1874, there has been a material decrease in the margin between the price of crude oil and the price of illuminating oil, the Standard Oil company can claim no credit for this decrease."

"2. The profits of the Standard Oil company, particularly on its domestic business, are altogether excessive, and they have been higher during recent years than formerly."

Standard Fixes Prices.

"The influence of the Standard Oil company on prices must be judged not by the absolute prices of the finished products of petroleum, but by comparison of such prices with the price of crude oil. The Standard buys much the greater part of its crude, and therefore the margin between crude and its finished products affords the proper criterion of its policy."

"In considering such margins the Standard's price policy may conveniently be considered as though it affected principally or only the consumer of the finished products. It is true that the Standard is substantially able to fix the price of crude oil in most of the great oil fields. The unduly great margin between the price of crude and the price of finished products might therefore be attributable either to the establishment of unduly low prices for crude, or to the establishment of unduly high prices for finished products, or to both combined. There is little doubt, however, that in general the excessive margins extorted

Comparison of Figures.

"The movement of the prices of illuminating oil, gasoline, lubricating oil and paraffin wax, respectively, are compared with the movement of the prices of Pennsylvania crude oil. A combined average price for the four products is presented, together with the margin above the crude price. This combined average price is made up by weighting the prices of the several products according to the respective proportions of the different products derived, on the average, from Pennsylvania crude."

Margin Keeps Growing.

"The margin between the price of Pennsylvania crude oil and the price of each of its four principal products increased greatly from 1897 or 1898 to 1903 and 1904. The average margin between crude and illuminating oil was 5.3 cents in 1898 and 7.1 cents in 1903, an increase of 1.8 cents. The gasoline margin increased from 5.2 cents in 1898 to 6.2 cents in 1903. The lubricating oil margin increased between the same years from 10.7 to 13.7 cents, and for paraffin wax from 26.9 to 31.9 cents. The margin in each case, except paraffin wax, was highest in 1903."

"The weighted average margin for the four classes of products combined was 6.5 cents in 1898 and 8.8 cents in 1903, an increase of 2.3 cents. The weighted combined margin was lowest in the second half of 1898, 6.3 cents, and highest in the first half of 1903, 8.9 cents."

Coal Famine "a Blessing."

"The year 1903 marks the culmination of the profits of the Standard Oil company on its domestic business, and on its total domestic and foreign business as well."

"The anthracite coal strike of 1902 caused a shortage of fuel, which led to an increased consumption of illuminating oil for fuel purposes during the winter of 1902-03. The price of illuminating oil rose greatly at this time and drew the prices of other products with it, and to a less extent that of crude oil."

"The occasion for these high prices soon ceased, but though there was some decline during the summer of 1903 there was another marked advance toward the close of the year, particularly in illuminating oil, the most important product. The Standard appears to have taken advantage of the precedent established the preceding winter to excuse an extraordinary high level of prices."

Few Cents Yield Millions.

"The marked advance in the margin between the price of crude oil and the price of its products in the domestic market has greatly increased the profits of the Standard Oil company on its domestic business."

The report here deals with statistics covering the cost to produce, transport and market oil, and shows an average increase in the margin of 1.5 cents a gallon from 1895 to 1904. From this increase in profits to the corporation, due to increased margin, are figured, showing additional profits to this cause of $25,000,000 in 1903 over the returns for 1898.

Oil Men Admit High Profits.

Continuing the report says:

"That these estimates of the increase of the profits of the Standard Oil company on its business in the United States do not overstate the facts is indicated by the admissions of the representatives of the Standard itself concerning its profits."

"The profits in the year 1906 on the entire business of the company, both domestic and foreign, were $34,077,519.10. The dividends in 1896 were 21 per cent; in 1897, 33 per cent; in 1899, 30 per cent. The probability is, as indicated by these dividends and statistics of prices, that the profits were roughly the same in 1897 and 1898 as in 1896. On the other hand, in 1903 the profits were $51,922,904, or an increase of more than $17,000,000 over 1896 and probably nearly as great an increase over 1897 and 1898."

Standard Abuses Power.

"This enormous increase in the profits of the Standard in recent years represents an addition to profits which already in 1897 and 1898 were exorbitant. It is clear, therefore, that the Standard Oil company has taken advantage of its monopoly power to increase prices enormously during the last few years."

"The total amount of dividends paid by the Standard from 1882 to 1906 was $51,922,904.50, or an annual average of $22,077,000. The average amount of trust certificates or stock outstanding during the period was $91,134,574. The dividends thus averaged 24.15 per cent per year."

"Estimating the profits for the years for which accurate returns are not available, the total amount of dividends for the entire period is about $50,000,000."

"These enormous profits have been based on an investment worth, at the time of its original acquisition, not more than $75,000,000."

"Waters-Pierce" a Gold Mine.

"The profits of the Waters-Pierce Oil company, a Standard concern, are discussed. Of this corporation the report says:

"The capital stock of the Waters-Pierce Oil company for many years has been $400,000. Its profits during recent years have increased with enormous rapidity. In 1898 the profits were at the rate of 256 per cent, on the capital stock. In 1904 the profits were over 670 per cent, on the capital stock."

Standard's Claims Untenable.

In discussing the real sources of the Standard's power, the report says:

"The representatives and defenders of the Standard Oil company, as a correlative of their unwarranted claim that it has been the cause of the reduction in prices, makes the further claim that the Standard's domination of the industry today is due to the fact that it furnishes products at reasonable prices, and that the less efficient independent concerns are unable to extend their business because they cannot afford to sell so cheaply."

Government is Defied.

In refuting the claim the commissioner says that the Standard takes advantage of its competitors by refusing to transport oil through its pipe lines or by charging exorbitant rates for the service, in defiance of federal law; that railroad discrimination and secret rebates added to the illegal advantages held by the monopoly; and, further, that the Standard, by bogus independent concerns, hoodwinked the public into buying 'trust' goods at prices deliberately put down beyond the reach of its honest competitors."

Spying System is Charged.

In concluding his report the commissioner arraigns the oil company as follows:

"Thus, the Standard maintains bogus independent companies, and thereby is able to escape the disadvantages due to anti-trust sentiment, as well as to cut prices to the particular customers of competitors without incurring the further loss of cutting prices to the entire trade in the locality."

"Again, the Standard maintains an elaborate system of espionage on the business of independent concerns, in particular securing almost complete reports of their receipts and shipments of oil by bribing railroad employees."

"Other less important methods of unfair competition pursued by the Standard are the giving of short measure and deception regarding the quality of the oil sold."

Holds Sway by Unfairness.

"Without railroad discriminations and unfair methods of competition the Standard could never have maintained its great proportion of the oil business in the United States while at the same time extorting such immense profits from the American consumer. The claim of the Standard that its control of the business is due to its ability to maintain low prices because of superior efficiency is a complete misrepresentation of the facts."

THEY WERE WED HALF A CENTURY AGO

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Bradway, for Many Years Respected Residents of Fort Wayne Celebrating Golden Jubilee of Their Marriage.

ORLANDO E. BRADWAY.

MRS. ELLEN GROSCH BRADWAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlando E. Bradway, long time and well known residents of this city, are today celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage, which took place in Gallion, Ohio, Aug. 5, 1857. The principal social feature of the day will be a dinner party this evening at the Homestead cafe, which the only living daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradway, Mrs. Louis S. C. Schroeder, will give. But one other child was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bradway, another daughter, Jennie, who died in Chicago in 1887. Mr. and Mrs. Bradway have lived here since 1863 and in the same home, corner of Hanna and Lewis streets.

Mr. Bradway came to this city on March 10, 1858, when he was but twenty-four years old. He had been transferred from Crestline, Ohio, where he had been working for the Pennsylvania company a year, lacking a few days. In the Crestline shops Mr. Bradway was the only moulder and had one helper. In the Fort Wayne shops he was foreman, moulder, helper and furnace tender, all at once. He served in various departments, in the boiler shop, then out in an open shed and then in one corner of the copper shop, always doing the moulding himself until 1862, when he hired one man. Ten years later there were ten men instead of one, and work had begun in the new foundry. Mr. Bradway worked at the bench until 1874 and remained in the foundry until 1899, when it was moved to Allegheny, Pa. In April, 1904, after working for the Pennsylvania company for forty-seven years, Mr. Bradway was pensioned. He never moved his family to Allegheny, but came to Fort Wayne every Saturday evening on No. 15, returning to Allegheny on No. 8 every Sunday evening for four and a half years.

O. E. Bradway was born in Massachusetts, March 10, 1834, and lived there until he was twenty years old, when he went to Gallion, Ohio. He learned his trade from his father.

Mrs. Bradway was Miss Ellen Grosch, of Gallion, Ohio, but she was born in a little Pennsylvania village called Log Cabin, situated in Huntingdon county, April 3, 1838. Her people moved to Gallion when she was but four years old. Mrs. Bradway is still hale and hearty.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradway have one grandchild, Louis O. Star, a machinist in the Pennsylvania shops, who resides on East Creighton avenue. A record of long years of faithful and efficient service at his trade, and with his wife a half century of happy and useful years, during which they have enjoyed the respect and esteem of their acquaintances, is contributing to the pleasure of this jubilee day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Bradway.

and Harry Nichols, Ray McMaken, Paul Brudi, John Christie.

A merry crowd of young people from the city, spent Sunday at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith. The day was spent pleasantly playing games, enjoying music and taking kodak pictures. A large table was placed in the apple orchard where a fine dinner was served. The guests were the members of the Chere La Passe club, who are the Misses Alice and Leona Casey, Carrie and Minnie Mayer, Clara Brookling, Opal Tappy and Zelma Kutsch. The invited friends were Messrs. George Eysenberg, Carl Langfeld, Charles Christie, John Crawford, Will Burns, James Caser, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ranner, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ranner, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Eysenberg. BIG MEETING OF MERCHANTS.

Gathering at Commercial Club This Evening is Important.

The Retail Merchants' association will hold a meeting at the Commercial club rooms this evening, with a buffet luncheon and cigars as an added feature, and the program is of unusual importance. Invitations to attend have been issued to all the retailers in the city, whether affiliated with the organization or not.

It is expected that some action will be taken regarding the recent prosecutions under the pure food law by which the merchants will be protected against the impositions of manufacturers who represent their products as pure when in fact they do not conform to the Indiana pure food laws. Other topics of equal importance are also on the program.

SOAKED IN COFFEE

Until Too Stiff to Bend Over.

"When I drank coffee I often had sick headaches, nervousness and biliousness much of the time, but when I went to visit a friend I got in the habit of drinking Postum.

"I gave up coffee entirely and the result has been that I have been entirely relieved of all my stomach and nervous trouble.

"My mother was just the same way. We all drink Postum now and, without coffee in the house for two years, we are all well.

"A neighbor of mine, a great coffee drinker, was troubled with pains in her side for years and was an invalid. She was not able to do her work and could not even mend clothes or do anything at all where she would have to bend forward. If she tried to do a little hard work she would get such pains that she would have to lie down for the rest of the day.

"At last I persuaded her to stop drinking coffee and try Postum Food Coffee and she did so and has used Postum ever since; the result has been that she can now do her work, can sit for a whole day and mend and she feels the least bit of pain in her side, in fact she has got well and it shows coffee was the cause of the whole trouble.

"I could also tell you about several other neighbors who have been cured by quitting coffee and using Postum in its place." "There's a Reason." Look in package for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

SMART FASHIONS

NEWEST STYLES IN TAILORED COATS.

These modish coats for wear with plaited skirts are the newest and at present the smartest style for walking or traveling costumes seen in Paris. The jacket of the check frock in the illustration is loose, rather manish, but made on lines that will be particularly becoming to tall, slender women. The other wrap is also a favorite, yet not so new in cut as the first model.

This second jacket fits the figure closely in front and back as far as the waist line, then flares in graceful folds around the hips, being almost three-quarters in length.

Spend Sunday With Margaret at Home of Accused Bride's Father.

Clinton, Ill., Aug. 5.—Fred Magill has been released on $5,000 bond, his mother, Mrs. Emily S. Magill, and uncle, Fred Deland, being his sureties. Fay Graham Magill was released on bond in the same amount, her father, W. W. Graham; her uncle, Dr. S. A. Graham; William Ogley and Ed Deboise signing for her. Margaret met them at the jail as they returned from trial. The three spent yesterday at W. W. Graham's home. Nothing can be learned here about the letter said to be in possession of a Walter Holtman, of Colorado Springs. Fay denies the existence of such a letter and asserts that she does not know Holtman. It is the general opinion here that the trial will not be held until November.

FRED HITE GREATLY IMPROVED.

Fred Hite, who was badly injured last Friday afternoon by the giving away of a scaffolding upon which he was painting, is getting along very well and in four or five weeks will be able to get out without any more serious results than his flat-footedness. At the present time he still has a little fever, but is resting easy and feels like eating. His ankles are badly swollen and these injuries will confine him for the time.

WOULD HAVE CANDIDATES PLEDGED TO MORE LIBERAL LAWS

Herman Mackwitz Presents
Some Resolutions at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Aug. 5.—At the annual German day exercises at Germania park yesterday Herman Mackwitz, of Fort Wayne, submitted a series of resolutions in favor of personal liberty and against the enforcement of laws tending to interfere with that liberty. The resolutions demand that members of the Stauverband require candidates to pledge themselves against the enactment of oppressive laws and the repeal of such laws as are regarded in that light. The resolutions concede "the growth of a tendency to enact oppressive laws and calls upon Germans everywhere to join the growing movement." The resolutions were adopted.

An echo of the fight between prohibition and a "liberal" construction of the liquor laws of the state was heard when Gustav Donald, editor of the Der Demokrat at Davenport, Iowa, who was the principal orator, admonished the big audience to see to it that too many saloons do not engage in business.

"We should see to it," he said, "that a saloon is a saloon and that a refreshment place is a refreshment place. We should try to prevent a drug store from being a secret saloon."

"The Germans," continued Mr. Donald, "are not in accord with the Sunday liquor laws, yet they should not go to extremes. They are not in accord with the Sunday liquor laws, but because they drink, but because they firmly believe that all these laws are against the spirit of the United States constitution. Mankind did very well under the original ten commandments, but sixty years ago in New England they invented an eleventh commandment. That was 'You shall not drink strong drink.' The Germans do not believe in this self-constructed law and they firmly believe that to make the state the conformer of the liquor laws is against the spirit of the constitution."

Mr. Mackwitz Speaks.
An address delivered by Hermann Mackwitz, vice president, of Fort Wayne, dealt with the saloon problem.

"While the German people," he said, "are not for absolute prohibition, they are in favor of some restrictions being placed upon the trade, and urge the closing of all places that can be called dives or disreputable saloons."

He spoke of the conditions in the old country in comparison with those in America as regards the saloons and drinking places, saying that the Americans could learn something of the manner of conducting an orderly saloon from the Germans. He said that there were many saloons here that were conducted in an entirely proper manner, but that some of them were not a credit to any city or town.

The annual election of officers of the association resulted in the reelection of all the old officers with the exception of the second vice president. In this office Ernest Welcker, of Evansville, will succeed Karl Lauestein.

The other officers are: President, Joseph Keller, Indianapolis; first vice president, Hermann Mackwitz, Fort Wayne; secretary, Jacob W. Loeper, and treasurer, H. O. Thudium, Indianapolis. August M. LIVES A WEEK BURIED IN HAY.
Pittsburg School Teacher Found Alive Near Marion, O.

Marion, O., Aug. 5.—After being buried under twenty-five tons of hay for a week without food or water, during which time a bloodhound and hundreds of searchers passed within a few feet of her, Miss N. A. Black, the Pittsburg school teacher who last Monday evening left a local sanatorium, was found yesterday morning. She probably will recover.

She was discovered shortly before noon by T. C. O'Day and Daniel Stayer on a farm two miles south of the city alongside the old hay barn near which all trace of her was lost Tuesday morning.

Miss Black says she took a stroll into the country and when dusk was falling started home. It was chilly and she was but thinly clad. She entered a barn, got inside the hay, and fell asleep. Tuesday morning the owner of the barn began filling the barn with new hay and by night it was full to the rafters.

Yesterday, almost crazed by thirst, the woman burrowed out of the barn, but was so weak she fell where she was found.

GIRL STABS FIANCE AND SELF.

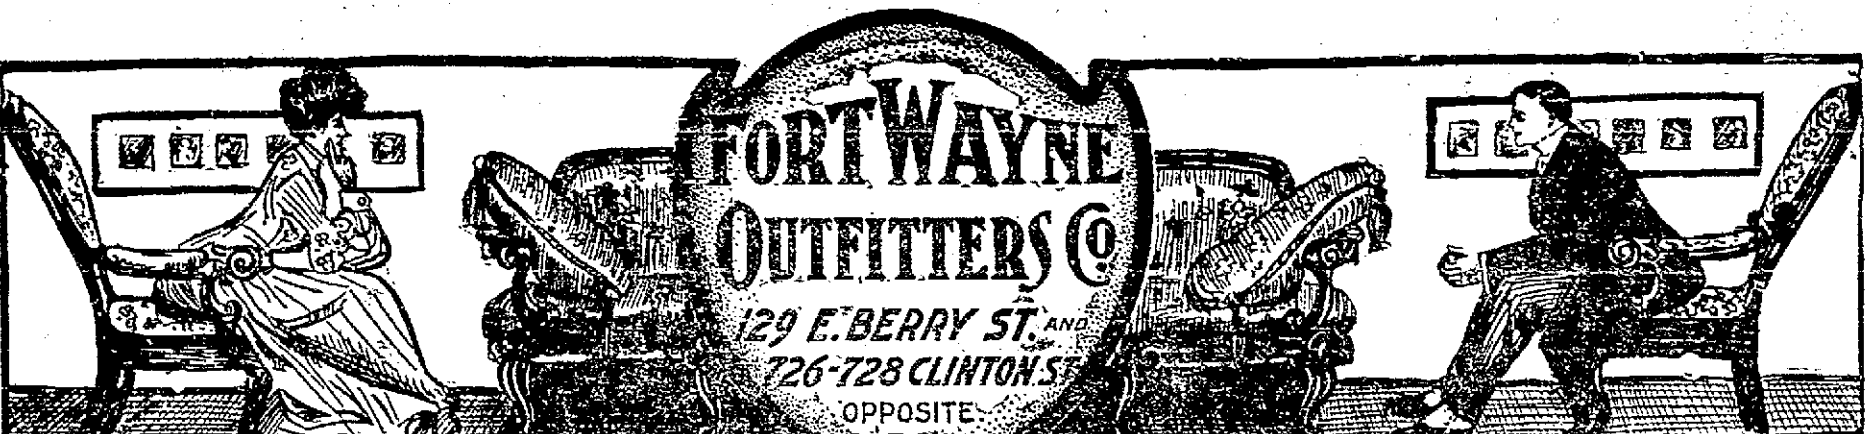

Hands Him Half a Lemon, Then Makes Fierce Attack.
Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 5.—"Take this," said Miss Agnes Caruthers to her fiance, John Nebr, son of the late Alderman Nebr, Saturday night as she handed him half of a lemon. The man took the lemon, and as he stood looking at it the girl stabbed him in the breast.

She barely missed his heart. The man rushed out and to a hospital. The girl followed him a short distance and then, going into her uncle's yard, inflicted twenty knife wounds upon herself. She was nearly dead from loss of blood when discovered and she cannot recover. The man will get well.

The tragedy was the result of almost insane jealousy on the part of the girl. The couple were to have been married within a few days.

KENNEDY WITHDREW APPLICATION FOR LICENSE.

He was a bit surprised when he was confronted by the remonstrance, and after a consultation with Hon. J. M. Robinson, he withdrew. The police have the right liquor in his place at Columbia and Harrison streets after the term of the present license expires.

League Not Satisfied.

Members of the Good Citizenship league were out yesterday looking for law violations and they are not satisfied with the conditions and some blind tiger advocates will be filed as soon as Prosecutor Nide returns from his summer vacation. Saloon men who are selling in back rooms and up-stair rooms are not deceiving the league a bit as the members have them spotted and are piling up evidence against them.

The crusade was carried on yesterday and will be continued until the saloon men agree to obey the law. It was not a very difficult matter to get a drink yesterday if the thirsty man was wise. There were a number of places open where the locations were favorable and a number of these were spotted and evidence put down against them. There will be no charges filed under the Moore law for the violations of yesterday for the present but in some instances sufficient information is being obtained to file three or four affidavits at the same time and apply on the third for revocation of licenses.

Mrs. Fred Lenz, who is a daughter of Dick Nahrwald, threatened last night to file affidavits against two members of the league who she says entered her home yesterday unannounced and went into two or three rooms to see whether or not liquor was being sold. She says they were trespassers and that their entrance made her very nervous. Her father conducts a saloon next to her place and she alleges that the residence was tightly closed and the proprietor was in Rome City yesterday.

NEW YORK STILL IN THROES OF PANIC

watchful eyes of mothers, sitting at the windows and on the doorsteps. The order given to all the plain clothes men to give their whole attention to patrolling the streets indicates the seriousness of the situation. The numerous attacks on children and the resulting morbidness developed by investigation of the cases, the police think, may develop a homicidal mania and make itself manifest in further attacks and assaults.

Will Probably Die.

An innocent man, Louis Conconela, mistaken by the mob as the man it was hunting, was beaten so badly yesterday that he will probably die. George Kestner, a bookbinder, is in the hospital suffering from injuries received at the hands of a mob which tore his clothes from his back and was only saved from being hanged to a lamp-post by the timely arrival of the police reserves. The police believe that Kestner attempted no overt act against the two children whom he is accused of trying to assault. An East Indian, Hongo Salado, gave some children a few pennies yesterday. His motives were construed as sinister and the police saved him from a crowd, which gathered quickly and sought a summary punishment for the supposed offense.

Another Accused Disclosed.

The arraignment of two Italians today in Lee avenue court, Williamsburg, disclosed another attempt made last night to assault a young woman. The two assailants were nearly lynched by a mob which was finally driven off by the police. The young woman was Miss Sadie Hasenflug, niece of State Senator Hasenflug. She was walking with her fiancée last night when two Italians who gave their names as John Montelone and Peter Condoso, attacked her. The Italians were overpowering Miss Hasenflug and her fiancée when the girl's screams brought a crowd, which saved her. The Italian was finally captured and the angry crowd began to make threats. A rope was brought and fifty men rushed for the Italians, who were being hurried to the station house by the police. The crowd scattered when the police drew their revolvers. Miss Hasenflug and her fiancée were uninjured.

Held Council of War.

Commissioner O'Keefe, who during the absence of Police Commissioner Bingham is in charge of the police department, called all the inspectors together today for a conference to determine on the further policy to protect women and children from assault.

During his young manhood he served in the German army and was with the empire's troops in Africa and in Russia. STAUFFER.

W. H. Stauffer, the young railroad employee who was struck by a stock train at Monday at St. Joseph's hospital, died the result of his injuries. His case was hopeless from the first, and his devoted mother remained constantly at the bedside until the end came.

The young man was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Stauffer, of Milan township, to whose home the remains were taken. He had been in the employ of the railroad but a month, and is presumed to have been sitting on the track beside his train at Monroeville while the engine was taking water, and, falling asleep, was struck by the stock train.

He was married in a few months to a most estimable young woman in Milan township.

THE MARKETS TODAY.

Wholesale market this morning was unusually quiet, it being said that not one farmer appeared on Barr street. Monday is generally a quiet day in the market line but this weather made it exceedingly so this morning. Consequently there were no changes in the prices of produce of any kind.

The millers report the same conditions today saying that very little wheat is coming in on account of the bad weather. The receipts of wheat at the mill were the first that had come in this season and the millers say they have nothing to complain of in the size of it, although at this time last year wheat was in its glory. But they explain it by saying that it is in keeping with the lateness of the season and the fact that the wheat will soon be bringing it in by the loads, after they are through with their harvesting of other grains. They say that the deal of the attention of the farmer at the present time. Many farmers are having to bring the younger members of their families into service this year for the harvesting season as help is very scarce. Wherever help is wanted the farmers are paying from $1.75 to $2.50 with board, but somehow they can't get men.

Another Cincinnati excursion train over that line started from Muncie and went into Cincinnati with 155 people, making the total number of excursionists 610. The company also had an exceedingly heavy business to the lakes yesterday and the preceding days and the incoming train last night brought over 700 people who had been north for an outing. The resort travel is at its best at present and every day many people go north. This morning the Lake Erie and Western delivered to the Lake Shore over fifty people from the towns along the former line who are going to the lakes for a brief stay. PRESIDENT NAMES NEW BROKEN BONES CURE A POSTMASTER FOR KENDALLVILLE

Charles S. Weingart Gets Appointment from Oyster Bay.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Aug. 5.—President Roosevelt today appointed Charles S. Weingart as postmaster at Kendallville, Ind.

The appointment was made by the president from his summer home here upon the recommendation of Congressman Gilhams, of the Fort Wayne district, and the change is expected to put an end to the trouble which has been boiling furiously at Kendallville at intervals for several years, and which practically disrupted the republican party at Kendallville. Mr. Weingart is a member of the city council at Kendallville, and it is believed his selection will prove generally satisfactory to the citizens there.

He will succeed Capt. George P. Alexander, who has held the office for more than eight years with the exception of a few months when the late C. C. Broward was appointed upon the recommendation of Congressman Gilbert after the hottest sort of a fight among rival candidates and their friends. Soon after Mr. Broward installed, his enemies sought to show that by reason of age and infirmities he was unable to properly attend to the affairs of the office. He was removed and the former postmaster, Capt. Alexander, was re-appointed. A little later Mr. Broward ended his life by hanging.

Opponents of Captain Alexander did not cease their fight upon him, even after his second appointment, and they have caused the sending of several inspectors to Kendallville to look into the situation. Congressman Gilhams was also compelled to take a hand, and in the attempt to still the turmoil the recommendation for Mr. Weingart was made. It is understood here that Captain Alexander is entirely content with his successor.

Winners Had Special Marks.

Conductors Bowman and Kelly and Motormen Coleman and Trivett, among whom was divided the first $25 offered as a prize by the Fort Wayne and Wabash Valley company under the merit and demerit system of discipline, won the honors by reason of special marks for exceptional acts of efficiency in their service. One of the men, Conductor Bowman, leaped from his car while it was in motion and grasped a horse, preventing a runaway which might have caused loss of life, and each of the others displayed efficiency along some line of the work that gained him special mention. The system will be continued, another $25 prize being awarded each six months.

FIERCE RACE RIOT IS SEQUEL OF GAME OF BASEBALL

Whites and Black Clash in New York and Many are Badly Injured.

New York, Aug. 5.—A fight between a negro and a white man over the result of a baseball game between white and colored teams at Olympia fields, Fifth avenue, between One Hundred and Thirty-sixth and One Hundred and Thirty-seventh streets, yesterday afternoon led to a riot, in which scores were hurt, two being injured so seriously they may die. It took the combined efforts of reserves from a dozen police stations to quell the disturbance.

As a result of over an hour's bombardment from roofs and windows along One Hundred and Thirty-sixth street, in the vicinity of Fifth avenue, and hand to hand fighting with razors and brass knuckles along the streets lined with negro tenements, John McCue and Matthew Murtha, both white, lie at Harlem hospital with fractured skulls. Simon Moreano, colored, also lies in the hospital with a badly lacerated scalp. Doctors of the hospital staff say the two white men are in a serious condition.

Riot Starts Over Wager.

The Olympians, a white team, and the Harlem colored ball players had a game early in the afternoon. At the end of the game a white man claimed a wager which he said a negro made on the result of the game and lost. When the negro refused to pay, the white man struck him. The negro ran into a large apartment house at the southeast corner of One Hundred and Thirty-sixth street and Fifth avenue, across the street from the ball grounds, and, rousing the negro tenants with his story of assault, made his way to the roof. Other negroes, scrambled to the eaves and began to hurl bricks from the chimneys down on the crowd of whites below.

This was the signal for a general fusillade from the windows of the negro apartment house all across the street and from a stone pile on the corner. The whites made a rush on the apartment house, and went through the front door, and went through the halls mauling every negro that could be found. They were repulsed when they tried to make their exit up to the roof by the blacks, who stood at a trap door with clubs and rods of iron.

Revives Old Trouble.

Noise on the trouble spread through the neighborhood and quickened the old feud between the whites and blacks into a general outbreak. Reserve parties of both races hurried from all about to the scene of the trouble and the street was filled with a struggling mass of fighters. Negroes on the roof pried off a large section of chimney and dropped it in the midst of the whites below. A mass of brick hit McCue, one of the seriously hurt, on the head. As the string of the wounded began to make its way to Harlem hospital the fight followed to the walls of the hospital itself.

It was two hours before the police controlled the situation. Last night several hundred officers patrolled the disturbed neighborhood.

Advance Showing

--- of ---

Early Fall Styles

We are pleased to announce our first showing of Ladies' Tailored Suits for Autumn.

In this initial display are represented the coming season's modes, and while extremely early, these forerunners of autumn apparel are none the less authoritative.

There is a strong tendency toward plain tailored effects, the 25 and 27-inch Prince Chaps, 27 and 32-in. Modified Cutaways, and braided, tight-fitting Military Coats predominating.

Striped broadcloths in sombre tints are among the new suitings shown in these suits, and fancy Panama cloth in dark rich colorings is a popular fabric.

Women who are looking for something new and distinctive for the intermediate season or for traveling will appreciate this opportunity, of selecting from these advance styles.
